

IUHPE Health Promotion Accreditation System

Eligibility criteria- practitioners

For Graduates of Health Promotion course not accredited within the System or of other relevant course the agreed relevant courses are:

public health, health education, social sciences including psychology, epidemiology, sociology, education, communication, environmental health, community, urban or rural development, political science.

Other academic qualifications may also be deemed appropriate but must be approved by the Board of Directors at Global level.